

SUSAN J. HENDERSON

Susan Henderson is the Associate Executive Director at Hope House Foundation. Susan began her career with HHF in October of 2003. She works with Admissions and coordinates resources for the individuals they support with developmental disabilities.

She also participates in the Hope House's tireless efforts to create and deepen partnerships with landlords, developers, rehabbers, housing authorities, housing financing agencies, city/county/state government officials, and other advocacy organizations through their 501(c)(4) organization to develop high-quality, affordable, accessible and integrated community housing for HHF's clients.

Susan earned her M.A. in Student Affairs in Higher Education from the Indiana University of Pennsylvania. She spent five years at Cedar Crest College in Allentown, Pennsylvania as the Director of the Lutz Center for Community Service/Service Learning, and also served as an adjunct professor in Ethics. Susan is an Endorsed Positive Behavior Support Facilitator through Virginia Commonwealth University.

In addition to her work at Hope House Foundation and The Residential Corp, she is a volunteer with WVU Extension 4-H program, a volunteer through her church and a leader of two local Girl Scout troops.
